The Gober Group is a national law firm that represents a diverse group of clients seeking to effectively engage in the political and public policy arenas at the federal, state, and local levels of government. Our client roster spans coast to coast and includes mid-sized to Fortune 100 companies, trade associations and other tax-exempt organizations, candidates and elected officials, lobbyists and political consultants, and high net-worth individuals and activists.

Whether it's achieving a strategic objective, navigating a "bet the company" issue, or competing at the ballot box, our clients trust us when their reputations are on the line. In other words, we help our clients win when it matters most.

That's by design. Our attorneys boast more than six decades of combined experience in the field, and we have also held key positions in high-profile campaigns, national political party committees, and federal and state government elections and ethics commissions. And while expertise and experience are essential to our victories, our clients attribute much of our success to our team's tenacious commitment to the core values that made us unique in the first place.
